Home Again.

We have went, and we have come. Mrs. McDowell and I left Friday morning, Sept. 22, for Missouri, our native state. Our first stopping place was Bixby, Oklahoma, near the Arkansas line, in the Ozark mountains. The morning after we arrived there, there was a white frost and we supposed that when we would arrive at Carrollton, our main visiting headquarters, 250 miles further north, we would find everything frost-killed, but were surprised to find that they had no frost and vegetation was still green.

We have numerous relatives in Carrollton and surrounding country and it was problem to visit all of them in the limited time we could spare, even in the extra week we took away from our jobs in Elba. We visited something like 50 relatives in Missouri, then called on our oldest son and his family in Decatur, Ga. We traveled through nine states, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and Georgia, and the only frost we found was in south Missouri.

Missouri is starting to harvest one of the largest corn crops in that great corn state's history. Farmers up there think they are not doing much if they make less than 80 to 100 bushels per acre. They also harvested a bumper wheat crop this year and are busily engaged in sowing next year's crop of winter wheat. Some of it was up and looking fine but it has been too dry for best results. We found it dry everywhere we went. The farmers are going in heavily for soy beans which they say is a pro-living an illness of two years. A flitable crop although compared to new in Missouri.

One great change we found was the complete absence of 1st Church. Surviving are two sons, J. O. to be one of the leading horse- and mule-raising states of the Union, but now practically all the farming operations are done more Clark, Mrs. John Stanfield, with tractors and machinery and Mrs. Cora Hall and Mrs. Clifford horses and mules are almost as scarce as the proverbial hen's teeth. A well-matched team of heavy draft horses or span of large choice mules that used to be sold for $500 to $600 can now be bought for approximately $100. Y. Vance Dunn, Joe E. Clark, At Lathrop, Mo. where they did have mule barns a quarter of a mile long, the barns have been converted into warehouses with direct.

MISSOURI is in the throes of a red-hot political campaign. The two major political parties are evenly matched and unlike Alabama, where the spring primary usually decides the selection of officers, the real fireworks there come off in November. Both parties are claiming the election as a U. S. Senator, but it is predicted that the race will be close.

I could write on and on about the sights we saw on our trip, but space forbids. Suffice it to say that we had a wonderful trip, but we are glad to get back home, hearing out the true story, "There's no place like home."

The Clipper wishes to correct the statement made a few weeks ago that the Ringdors family made a trip to Birmingham and obtained a 5-year draft deferment for their son, Marshall. He was one of 600 applicants at the Alabama School of Dentistry. He put in his application and was admitted to the United States Army. The war was thought of. If his induction is postponed it will be because he has carried the privilege through scholastic merit, of Mr. & Mrs. Sam Bean Young, temp made by his parents. The father of M. S., created the local draft board, as well as his Clipper building in 1938. A. A. parents, have been criticized severely because of this misunderstanding. Dentists are seriously needed in the armed services and indications are that they will see active service in time of war.

The price of haircuts in barber shops in Atlanta and other cities has been raised to 85c and destroy USS Diachenko, wrote a dollar. A dollar for a haircut! His impressions of the assault you blame the barbers. Every body is clipping his customers. The incidentally what is that 85c first going into the harbor and getting old. I can remember when a haircut was 25c, unless you got a tonic, in which case it was 35c. The funny part of it is that back in those days most of us could not be told to suppose you've read and heard

Baltimore School, Babe Ruth's Home, Closed to Juveniles

BALTIMORE, Md.—For 84 years—since 1866—St. Mary's industrial school in Baltimore has been the work of turning many juvenile delinquents into solid citizens. Now it has closed its doors.

Among its products were two famous men—the late Babe Ruth and Al Johnson.

Babe Ruth entered the school when he was seven because his father, a carpenter, wanted his environment around his place wasn't too good. Young Ruth was listed as an incorrigible, but in later years you could never get the monks at the school to agree that he was. He stayed there until he was 18. The school must have made an impression on the future home run king, Father Albert, who told him at the school, said Ruth once told him, when he was at the height of his glory: "We're all in life to do good. And I hope that when I die I will have lived so I can help the boys of America to live straighter and cleaner lives."

And there's Johnson. He visited the statement made a few weeks ago that the Ringdors family made a trip to Birmingham and obtained a 5-year draft deferment for their son, Marshall. He was one of 600 applicants at the Alabama School of Dentistry. He put in his application and was admitted to the United States Army. The war was thought of. If his induction is postponed it will be because he has carried the privilege through scholastic merit, of Mr. & Mrs. Sam Bean Young, temp made by his parents. The father of M. Age Has Limitations Judge Tells 16-Year-Old Romeo BOEYON—Judge Elbert Adlow told 16-year-old Joseph Melia to stay home and stay away from the girls—after all, age has limitations.

Melia, barely five feet tall and with a small white mustache, was in court charged with threatening with a pistol, the boy friend of pretty Camella List, 18, a neighbor of Melia.

Police said Melia apparently was jealous, when told Judge Adlow to inform the old man.

"Don't talk to girls. I never yet knew of a man who talked to girls who didn't get in trouble. Leave it to the young fellows—there is a limit to what a 16-year-old man can do."

The Judge then filed the case with an admonition to Melia to have his daughter keep him away from the young ladies.

Mr. & Mrs. Joe Chambers and Mark of Brundidge visited her parents, Mr. & Mrs. J. C. Fleming Friday night and attended the Elba-Op football game.

ELBA BEATS ENTERPRISE 7-0, TO WIN MYTHICAL COUNTY CHAMPIONSHIP

By Clyde Collier

Elba took charge of Coffee County's gridiron last week as they outscored, outgained and generally outplayed Enterprise in a game that the Tigers won 14-0.

No one scored during the first quarter. In the second stanza Elba forced the visitors to punt from their own 20. Nally went through to block the punt and Alt. Captain DeVane covered the ball on the two yard line. Elba took charge of the game from there on with Captain Harold Parris going over for the score. Ray Flowers made the extra point.

The Tigers scored again in the second half. Marler covered a fumble on the 25 yard stripe to set off another Tiger touchdown march. Ray Flowers went 13 yards for the score. Farris made the extra point.

Elba was lone on the statistics of the game, too. In the first half, Elba made 7 first downs and Enterprise 2, and rolled up 126 yards to the visitors. 30. In the second half Elba made 7 first downs and gained 106 yards to 3 first downs for Enterprise and 48 yards in gains.

The Tigers rolled up a total of 222 yards from a line of scrimmage while limiting Enterprise to 71. First downs were 15 and 9. Ray Flowers gained 137 yards, averaging 7 per try. Farris rammed his way through for 71 yards, averaging 7.

Outstanding in the line were Nally, DeVane and Enzor. Murdock was the standout back for the visitors.

These days you can't tell from the price tag how much quality a car holds. Ford, for example, is still priced with the lowest... yet in other respects it's in the fine car class. Take its styling, for example. For two years in a row Ford has been the recognized fashion leader.

Like America's finest cars Ford offers you a V-8 engine. No other low-priced car does. No does any other car at any price offer you a choice of V-8 or six engines. And remember, Ford's V-8 costs hundreds less than most sixes—Ford's six costs even less.

SHORT STORY

Basil's Dilemma

By Richard H. Wilkinson

AS USUAL Basil came home on the 5:35. It was after dark when he arrived in front of his house on High street. About to turn in at the gate he was stopped by a car. Basil continued to leave with his

Pat Kearney's tire aroused. He felt on the ground, found a fair sized stone and without hesitation crashed it against the window. The glass splintered, but didn't break. He smashed it again and there was a great shattering inside, unlocked the door and climbed into the driver's seat. At that moment Basil rounded the corner beyond Mark Terrence's place. Basil worked fast. He released the handbrake, quickly disengaged the clutch and ran around back. He put his shoulder against the spare tire and began to shove. The car moved slowly. Digging his heels into the ground Basil continued to heave with his

GOOD HEALTH!

1. DO SPORTS SHORTEN LIFE? 2. WHAT'S NEW IN RURAL HEALTH? 3. WHAT ARE TONSILS FOR?

Answer to Question No. 1: 1. Strenuous exercise, especially after 40, may shorten life. On the other hand, one study indicates that college athletes live slightly longer lives than preferred risk life insurance policyholders. Football players and those who had letters in two or more sports scored highest in longevity. Another study, however, showed that holders of high scholastic honors lived longer than the athletes.

Answer to Question No. 2: 2. Need communities that need doctors are attracting young physicians by building clinics that contain the tools modern doctors need to practice efficiently. These tools, like X-ray, are too expensive for the average young doctor to buy and so he settles in larger cities where they are available to him in hospitals. Now small towns are "baiting doctor traps" by furnishing the doctor with modern medical equipment.

Answer to Question No. 3: 3. No one is certain what use tonsils may have but one theory is that when they become infected in the first three years of life they tend to help the individual build resistance against protection. In most cases this protection is only temporary. Doctors usually advise removal of the tonsils when there are repeated attacks of sore throat, when tonsils and adenoids cause mouth-breathing, or there is strong suspicion that they are harboring infection.
